

The cable companies already have a monopoly on the television market. How many cable (not satellite) companies do you have to choose from in your city? Let competition continue. Thank you